The Prince of Orange is dangerously ill with pleurisy.

Small pox is reported as prevalent at Ottawa, Canada.

EUREKA has a total of 431 school children, an increase of 61 since last year.

EXCEEDINGLY hot weather prevails in the Northern and Middle States.

The chief partner in the banking firm of Rothschild, Baron Lionel Nathan De Rothschild, is dead.

The Standard Mining Company of Bodie have declared a dividend of 50 cents per share for May.

The State exchanges are prolific in "personals" of parties starting for Yankee Fork, the new sensation as a mining district.

COUNTY COMMISSIONER BURGESS of Austin died on Tuesday, and was buried yesterday at that place. His disease was pneumonia.

The result of the Judicial election in Chicago on Tuesday was an average Democratic majority for Judge of the Supreme Court.

THE House has passed a resolution appropriating $20,000 to enable the Government to be represented at the Australian Exposition this Fall.

CHRISTIAN MEYER, of Stockton, a native of Germany, and a shoemaker by trade, aged 53 years, committed suicide on Tuesday, by taking strychnine.

Lawrence Kreamer of Marysville, California, aged sixty years, committed suicide on Tuesday, by hanging himself to a well frame. Cause dissipation.

A DREADFUL story comes by telegraph from Texas, of the outraging and killing of a Mrs. Colson, and the murder of her two little girls by a party of Indians.

ACCORDING to the latest census of Australia, there are in that country 183 men and 229 women who have reached or passed the age of one hundred years.

DIPHTHERIA has broken out in Bodie. A number of persons are down with it, mostly children. A little son of David Dewar died of a malignant attack of the dreadful malady.

THE friends of Dobbler have withdrawn their protest against the result of the recent 75-hour walking match, in Chicago, and the belt and first prize will be awarded to Parry, the Englishman.

A telephonic concert was attempted last Sunday, in Sacramento, Marysville and Red Bluff, with satisfactory results. Vocal and instrumental music in each place were heard quite distinctly at the others.

AN undivided one-half or whole of the Tuscarora Times-Review, newspaper and job printing establishment, is offered for sale. The ill health of one of the proprietors and outside business which occupies the time of the other, are the reasons for selling.

THE Sentinel learns that the measles are prevalent among the Indians of that section. If the weather should not continue extremely warm it is likely to prove very fatal among them. We know of some cases among the Chinamen in this section. It seems to make but little difference as to "race color or previous condition."

New York, June 4.—It is conclusively shown by recent advices from Russia that the reports of a reign of Nihilist terrorism are greatly exaggerated. The latest confirmation is supplied by Minister Stoughton, who arrived here yesterday. He stated emphatically that not only are the reports of these troubles greatly exaggerated, but that nearly every material statement made about them is absolutely false. He said that when he left St. Petersburg the city was as tranquil as New York, and it was not then different from what it usually was.

The man arrested in Winnemucca on Saturday proved to be a case of mistaken identity, and not the Tom Lawton wanted. The following is a description of Thomas Lawton, the missing murderer of Tullis, obtained from the State Prison authorities at Auburn, New York, where he served a term of two and a half years; "Lawton is 32 years of age, of light complexion and 5 feet 5 1/2 inches in height; fine black hair; full blue eyes; high projecting forehead; straight sharp pointed nose; small chin; small scar on temple; on right fore-arm, outlines of a dog in India ink, head outward with collar, and spot on shoulder and rump. Initial letters in red about the dog.

LOVE'S LAST OFFERING.

We present to our readers this short address delivered by Col. Robert Ingersoll over the remains of his brother. Nothing more touchingly beautiful or pathetically eloquent was ever spoken when consigning a loved form back to the earth from whence it came.

"My friends, I am going to do that which the dead oft promised he would do for me. The loved and loving brother, father, husband, friend, died where manhood's morning almost touches noon, and while the shadows were still falling towards the West. He had not passed on life's highway the stone that marks the highest point, but being weary for a moment, he lay down by a pillow, fell into the dreamless sleep that kisses down his eyelids. Still, while yet in love with life and raptured with the world, he passed to silence and pathetic dust. Yet, after all, it may be best, just in the happiest, sunniest hour of all the voyage while eager winds are kissing every sail to dash against the unseen rock, and in an instant to hear the billows roar, 'a sunken ship' for whether in mid sea or among the breakers on the farther shore, a wreck must mark at last the end of each, and all, and every life, no matter if its every hour is rich with love and every moment jeweled with a joy, will at its close become a tragedy as sad and deep and dark as can be woven of the warp and woof of mystery and death. This brave and tender man in every storm of life was oak and rock, but in the sunshine he was vine and flower. He was the friend of all heroic souls. He climbed the heights and left all superstitions far below, while on his forehead fell the golden dawning of a grander day. He loved the beautiful, and was with color, form and music touched to tears. He sided with the weak, and with a willing hand gave alms. With loyal heart and with the purest hand he faithfully discharged all public trusts. He was a worshipper of liberty, and a friend of the oppressed. A thousand times I have heard him quote the words, 'For Justice all places are a temple, and all seasons Summer.' He believed that happiness was the only good, reason the only torch, justice the only worshipper, humanity the only religion, and love the priest. He added to the sum of human joy, and were every one for whom he did some loving service to bring a blossom to his grave, he would sleep to-night beneath a wilderness of flowers. Life is a narrow vale between the cold and barren peaks of two eternities. We strive in vain to look beyond the heights. We cry aloud, and the only answer is the echo of our wailing cry. From the voiceless lips of the unreplying dead there comes no word but the light of death. Hope sees a star, and listening love can hear the rustle of a wing. He who sleeps here when dying, mistaking the approach of death for the return of health, whispered with his latest breath, 'I am better now.' Let us believe in spite of doubts and dogmas, and tears and fears, that these dear words are true of all the countless dead. And now, to you who have been chosen from among the many men he loved, to do the last sad office for the dead, we give his sacred dust. Speech cannot contain our love. There was, there is, no gentler, stronger, manlier man.

OVER THE CATARACT.

The excursion party that went from Niagara to Buffalo on Sunday last witnessed the awful spectacle of a man going over the falls. Pi Walker was one of the most daring of the guides, when sober, and when drunk was foolhardy. On this day he was drunk at Port Day, several miles above the falls, and undertook to row in a small boat to Goat Island. This feat is always dangerous, because if a landing is not skillfully made the boat may be carried into the rapids, but Walker had frequently accomplished it. On this occasion, however, he was incapacitated by intoxication. Five hundred of the excursionists, standing on the Goat Island bridge and the shore close by, saw him coming down stream on the American side. He had lost control of the boat, one of the oars was displaced, and he was covering helplessly on the seat. The boat struck on a hardly submerged rock, and it seemed for a moment that escape was possible, but the man was too dazed to act quickly. Instantly he was hurried into the rapids. The craft was shattered against a second rock, and he was thrown into the water to be flung over the cataract and disappear.

San Francisco, June 4.—The Grand Grove of the California U. A. O. D., began its fifteenth annual session at San Jose yesterday. The report of the Grand Secretary showed that during the year five new Groves have been installed, and that one Grove had surrendered its charter. There are now 28 Groves in the jurisdiction, with a membership of 1,565 showing a net loss of six during the year. The total revenue of the subordinate Groves during the year was $31,177, and their total assets are $73,965. Fifteen thousand and twenty-seven dollars was paid out in relief during the same time.

SUICIDE.—Of a man with whose former career many Carsonites are familiar, to their sorrow, the telegraph informs us as follows: Colusa, Cal., June 4.—N. L. Squires, who was found guilty of murder in the first degree last Friday, committed suicide at half-past 9 o'clock last night. He cut both arms and his throat with a razor. One of the prisoners in the jail gave the alarm, and when the Sheriff got to Squires he was yet alive, but died in a short time. How he got the razor is a mystery. His wife visited him yesterday, and it is supposed that she must have carried it to him.

Seventeen Chinamen afflicted with leprosy have been sent to Hongkong from San Francisco, per steamship China. The arrangements were made secretly, owing to the opposition of the Chinese merchants and seamen. Each Chinaman was furnished with a blanket, food for two days and $10 by the Chinese Consul, and their fare of $33 each was paid by the city.
